

GET THE REAL DEAL.

Ford vs. JASPER

Staying on the technological cutting edge requires real resources...and Ford Remanufactured Power Stroke® Diesel engines have the engineering might of Ford Motor Company to back them up. We remanufacture only Power Stroke Diesel engines, which increases our level of expertise...and we leave the complexity of producing engines for multiple manufacturers to competitors.

What does “OEM Specs” Really Mean?

Competing engine remanufacturers don't always have the resources that we do. And when it comes to remanufacturing Ford Power Stroke Diesel Engines to true Original Equipment specifications, only we have proprietary Ford Engineering blueprint data. This intellectual property is not available to any competitor. JASPER and other competitors have to reverse-engineer OEM product and attempt to duplicate the original.

Of its own remanufactured engines, JASPER says:

“The complete engine will be remanufactured using a standard set of new internal parts. All other castings and components will be remanufactured to OEM specifications.”

Keep in mind that “using a standard set of new internal parts” doesn't limit JASPER to using Genuine Ford or Motorcraft original equipment parts. Ford uses only genuine OEM parts – every time, on every engine.

Ford vs. JASPER Diesel Engines

Compare Warranties and Warranted Parts

When is a critical engine component a “maintenance item”?

When it's part of a JASPER Engines warranty.

Ford backs its Power Stroke® Diesel engines with a two-year, unlimited-mileage warranty. JASPER doesn't come close – just read the fine print on their website. They offer a two-year unlimited-mileage parts and labor warranty on diesel “running completes,” but that's where any warranty similarity ends.

Ford Remanufactured Power Stroke Diesel engines offer nationwide warranty coverage on every component for the length of the warranty.

But JASPER considers many critical engine components “maintenance items” and warrants them for only one year. None of these components has a recommended maintenance interval or replacement schedule. That's because they are not maintenance parts. And that's why Ford fully covers them all, for the entire two-year warranty period:

- Electronic fuel injectors
- Hydraulic high pressure pumps
- Turbochargers
- Water pumps
- Sensors
- Sending units
- Belts and hoses

Ford also replaces the EGR cooler and oil cooler with a new OEM part on every remanufactured diesel engine. None are rebuilt or reclaimed, which goes a long way toward ensuring reliable operation. JASPER's website is silent on these components.
